What do you think about this brand? How well does this car run? That car shopping takes a lot of time Are there any warranties? That sales people are all jerks That there are people more How long do I need to go That they would knowledgeable between oil changes? get a tesla if they with cars than could afford it they are What are some good car repairs shops? That all Buicks Wants to find a How many miles per Does it with a are for old people leather interior? gallon can I get with car for a good this car? price Don't care if it's Will there be follow made in the US What interior Thinks that the up if the car is country of origin options are there? purchased from the That the process for a car is dealership? I don't know where should be easier important to start? than it currently is That dealerships are "stealerships" Why should I lease That they couldn't instead of buy? Says Thinks have gotten a better deal on their current car Searches for best deals Does Feels Talks to people and other customers Hope the car represents them well Drives through car lots Thinks a certain car That they are being will make them cool to Takes cars for test drives taken advantage of a group of people Searches for safety by the sales men Talks to people ratings online through social That are cars that are Puts car seats in back networking sites That coupe cars are red are a very manly of car to see if fun, but not practical color Tests out the AC to multiple will fit make sure it is That leather makes That cars working everything look commercials are not Contacts experts that Check for trunk space better realistic they know Always makes sure That they cannot Wants to find a Checks to see if car car is clean and tidy make sense out of all car for a good has been maintained the information price well They feel helpless